Project: Lindsey Herbert (Robot Ears, Point Collective)

Biography: Born and raised in the Los Angeles area, Lindsey Herbert discovered electronic music during her mid-teens, eventually teaching herself to mix in 2013 at just sixteen years old. Upon completion of High School, she moved north to San Francisco where she continued to explore her love for the more underground sounds of electronic music.

In her short but aspiring career, Lindsey Herbert has continued to drift towards the darker realms of techno, constantly honing her craft as a DJ and getting involved with the thriving scene in San Francisco. Fast-forward to 2017 and Lindsey has truly become a recognized name in her city and beyond, in large part thanks to her unique signature sets — true journeys that explore alternating soundscapes laced together by dark, deep and heavy textures, spatial melodies and relentless, gritty undertones. With tour dates that have brought her to international venues playing beside top name DJs, she is an artist to watch..
